Mr. Editor: It has been two weeks since we exposed our ignorance through your valuable paper, we thought we would come again if you would give us space. Plenty of rain and mud the past week. Mr. James Young, better known as "little Jim," was in town this week looking just as happy as a big sun flower, on account of the arrival of a fine girl at his house Saturday. 27th inst. Mr. James R. Allen and her two little boys, Earl and Ray, of California, are visiting his parents. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Melton. Mr. Will White says he is glad to see the boys, as he can be at home with that fine boy that arrived at his house Monday. We wonder what percent Mr. Hall made on his lots, and if he came out even. Mr. Melton has sold his town property to John Harshaw, but has not decided whether he will rebuild here or not. Better stay with us, J. H. is what your friends say. We understand that Mr. Len Murphy will occupy the store house formerly owned by Mr. Melton. As Summit Gleanings has assumed our name we select another.

Rev. C. W. West preached at Montrose last Sunday. M. I. Settle is very sick with typhoid fever at this writing. F. M. Staley purchased a house in Mayesburg and is making arrangements to move it to his farm on Petercreek. F. C. Tyre is building a nice barn. For a clean shave and a fashionable hair cut call on Geo. Pitts at Mayesburg. There was a mule show at Mayesburg between Frank Moudy and Mr. Swigger, the one having the best mule was to set up the "two fors." Owing to the inclement weather work on the churches is progressing very slowly. Willie McCue and Miss Sallie White, Tom Miller and Miss Maud Staley took a drive to Butler last week; nothing serious, however. Longfellow, in his communication to the Weekly Union, headed Spruce Items, says the great Kilkinney cat fight is over. Yef, Bro. Longfellow, the fight is about over and there are several dead cats, and before the sun sets on the 4th of Nov. the rest of the union labor cats will have passed away. Longfellow says there are several hungry cats in northeast Bates who are slipping around telling their republican neighbors to scratch S. A. Douglass. Don't be alarmed, the republicans have a tick of their own and there is no danger of them voting for your uncle Sid. Longfellow, when did you leave Petercreek and move to Spruce township? We had not missed you yet. ZIP.

Sprague News.

Seeing nothing in your valuable paper from this part of the county, I send you a few items from this prosperous community. Squire Graves held court the latter part of last week. Some prominent lawyers from Rich Hill, Butler and Kansas City were present, the case being an important attachment suit. Jury hung. Mrs. Dr. Witter has been quite sick for the past week but is now able to be up. The teacher's social at Dr. Lyle's was a rare occasion and one which will be long remembered by those present. One most pleasant feature, for which we are indebted to Mrs. Lyle, was the delicious and bountiful supper to which we did ample justice after which we were favored with some excellent music by her charming daughter, Miss Annie. The company was composed of the teachers from the college and public schools.

Shance Breezes.

Still it rains and it is quite cool. Most of our farmers finished sowing wheat before the heavy rains, and that sown looks well. Mrs. Waddle and family, of Vinita, Indian Territory, are visiting relatives in Shawnee, they are well pleased in their home in the Nation but still they enjoy a stay in old Bates. Miss Ida Stucky leaves this week, she goes to take charge of a school west of Butler. Miss Ida is a good teacher, and an amiable young lady and will no doubt give satisfaction as a teacher, and will make many friends while there. Walter D. is already looking sad, but cheer up, Walter, Ida has a charming young sister if you can just get Art. Finton to go off somewhere to school. John McGhee is visiting his parents in eastern Shawnee. Alva Deerwester goes to Montrose to school this winter. J. P. Hermann is wanting to buy cattle to feed this winter. Dr. McFarland is perfectly wild, the cause is the arrival of a big boy at his house, or rather at Father Ray's. Miss Anna Powell is visiting her sister, Mrs. Price Ray, in Kansas City. Mrs. Christina Baumunk, of K. C., who has been visiting her parents in Shawnee returned home Monday. Mr. John Deerwester has his new barn completed and it is a fine building. Miss Maggie Hermann left the first of the week for Kansas City for medical treatment. Yes—Lewis Decker went to Fairview Sunday night, and so did—oh, ask some one else, we don't want to tell. Miss Cora Bernhardt has regained her health sufficiently to be at church again. Walt Mosher and sister were at Salem S. S. Sunday. Wonder what ailed Pete Hermann last Sunday at Salem. Guess Sam McCandless can tell, and if not just ask Miss Emma Elliott, we know she can. L. A. Cox is hauling lumber to build an addition to his house. Hayden Ray left last week for K. C. where he goes to attend a commercial school, our best wishes go with him. Tom Elliott says if he just had such whiskers as John Crabtree has he might stand some chance over on the corner. Booker Powell and Jim Allen each ordered a car load of Rich Hill coal which was delivered a Passaic this week. W. T. Meglissen will address the Shawnee voters, at harmony school house Saturday, Oct. 4. Pete Hermann is heading east this week, going to sweeten up for Sunday we presume. Miss Dora Greer, who is visiting her uncle Frank Greer, is quite sick. The poultry growers of these parts are mourning, since the failure of Bates Co's. poultry king, but hope he will start up again soon. Sam McCandless is rejoicing since his Indian Territory girl's return to Bates, but John would be better pleased if it were her older sister. Was it Elmer that went to Butler last Sunday? We thought so, but he was certainly at Chapel Sunday night. Strange isn't it. B. F. Billings was in Butler one day last week, something new. Gus Hermann made a flying trip to Deepwater this week and his cousin returned with him. Rev. Inlow has left us and is now engaged in a series of meetings at Fairview, success be with him for he is a faithful worker in his masters cause. And now, Mr. Ed., as our breezes are getting rather numerous we'll close, lest we be turned over to the waste basket, and with good wishes to the TIMES and it's many readers we are
